Rev's Field Transcription Template Details

Rev has Discovery's preferences on file, and when a production company informs Rev that the project being transcribed is a Discovery program:

➡ You can start placing transcription orders, once you are set up with a Rev account.

➡ Please submit your files with the following file name structure:
[Name of Project]_Season [Season Number]_Episode [Episode Number]
Example: Dr Pimple Popper_Season 6_Episode 13

➡ Rev will deliver these transcripts with the following specifications:
Transcripts delivered in a format that uses tables to separate columns and rows. The recipient will be able to highlight/select all of the text in one column (such as the dialog column) without the columns for timestamps and/or speakers' names also being selected.

➡ Column order is as follows:
Column A: Timestamp
Column B: Speaker's name
Column C: Dialogue

➡ Swear words (aka foul language) must be indicated with four dashes:
"----" (instead of "..." or "(bleep)").

That's not all!
