

PROTECT YOUR PRODUCTION and the value of your programming franchise!

ESG's Sullivan Compliance Company is the industry leading program compliance and practices company. For over 20 years, we have delivered our services to almost all leading U.S. and International production and distribution entities and the most popular and well known television programs.

Our management team brings unmatched experience and expertise to our services and we are recognized authorities in program compliance and in-studio program practices. We work closely with our clients to create rules and production procedures that meet all applicable regulatory requirements as well as the creative and entertainment goals of the programming.

Just as importantly, we provide third party verification that the programming we monitor is produced fairly, honestly, according to the rules of the competition and in the manner described to the public, enabling us to definitively respond to any inquiry, question or issue which may arise during or after production.

- Pre-Production Review and Consultation including advising on competition rules and design.
- Production Monitoring Services including advising on resolution of issues arising during production.
- Contestant and Question Procedures Review and Briefing.
- Post Production Inquiry Resolution as an independent third party monitor and authority.
